COMPANY HISTORY

Chumile Holdings was established in 2012 by Violet Lupuwana, a qualified and professional industrial engineer, business development specialist and accredited trainer, assessor and moderator.

Initially, their core business was training and skills development of entrepreneurs, corporate training and capacity building of business owners. The company was the preferred training service provider of BBBEE codes of good practice to the clients of one of the national BBBEE verification companies.

In 2014 the company pivoted into a transport company. At this stage the company operated along the public transport routes in the Eastern Cape and then grew its service offerings to cater for government projects as their transport service provider.

In 2016 the company pivoted into staff transport contract work for the multinational FMCG and automotive companies. This service offering grew so much that the Chumile Transport Service became an established brand within the staff transport and passenger transport market.

In addition to the staff transport, the company also gets work from NPOs, government departments, schools, churches, sports teams for group transport trips both locally and nationally.

In 2018, the company diversified our transport offering to include the shuttle and tours. This service is now offered to corporates, hotels and game drives. We also offer this service to state owned entities (SOEs) who require chauffeuring services. We offer this service to the public customers who require airport shuttles and to both local and international tourists.

By adopting a flexible and innovative approach to their business, the company quickly expanded their scope of service to road freight and logistics including haulage, tippers, flat beds, containers, tautliners and reefers in 2020.

Chumile Holdings and the various brands under our company have a proven track record of implementing efficient systems, delivering quality service, and building meaningful, robust business partnerships.

In this way, they are realising their vision of becoming the most preferred transport and logistics business partner owned by a black woman.

Their mission is to delight all their customers with on time, reliable, safe and cost-effective transport and logistics solutions.

Chumile Holdings is a reliable and fully compliant transport and logistics company. The company is 100% black women owned and boasts a B-BBEE Level 1 transformation status. The company was established out of passion for delivering excellence service and adding value helping others to become more efficient, more productive and to enable them to focus on their core business. The company is registered under the Companies Act 2008, and possesses all necessary documentation required to operate as a reliable and trusted service provider to corporates, government and various organisations. The company is registered on the National Treasury Central Supplier Database with Supplier number MAAA0081493.
